By JAYNE W. MILLER
News Editor

WILMINGTON - Late last week Representative Charley Murphy announced that he would not seek re-election to the State House in 2012, and will resign when the House recesses at the end of July.

Murphy represented Burlington, Bedford, and a portion of Wilmington in the 21st Middlesex District. The 46 year-old former Marine was elected to the House in 1997, serving the communities for eight terms.

"The decision was an extremely difficult one to reach, however, Nan and I are in agreement that the time has arrived for me to pursue the next chapter in the proverbial book of life," said Murphy in a statement. "To that end, I am joining Burlington based Arcadia Solutions, a health-care IT consulting company, as vice president of public policy and government affairs."

Murphy was named Chairman of the powerful House Committee on Ways and Means, which develops the state budget, in 2009 at the height of the so-called Great Recession. He served as

Selectmen won't bow to call for removal of BOA member

WILMINGTON - The Board of Selectmen meeting on Monday was a smorgasbord of town affairs. However, the most impactful portion of the meeting came at the end, when one resident called on Selectmen to remove a Board of Appeals member due to Facebook comments. Selectmen, however, didn't bite.

Public comments heated up when resident George Lingenfelter asked the Board if all members had received his letter "demanding" the removal of a member of the Board of Appeals because of some comments made on a personal Facebook account.

All of the Selectmen acknowledged receiving the letter and openly denied the request to remove the individual from the Board of Appeals.

Family Fun Day: get independence spirit

32 years of Fun on the Fourth

By JAYNE W. MILLER
News Editor

WILMINGTON - For thirty-two years Wilmington has offered residents a weeklong Fourth of July celebration unparalleled in neighboring communities. Events begin this Friday, with the fantastic Family Day extravaganza on Saturday, and breakfasts, lunches, concerts and other events running through Wednesday, July 4. This year, once again, should not be missed.

"It's always about the community," said Scott Gallant, Chairman of the 4th of July Committee. "It is the perfect example of all that Wilmington is, volunteers from so many groups as volunteers, donors, and those that come down and enjoy the events."

Since the 4th falls on a Wednesday the Committee always works hard to decide how to arrange events while balancing the availability of supporters for the variety of events and programs provided. Family Night fireworks will occur on Saturday (beginning at 9 p.m.), but the Spectacular Fireworks begins on Tuesday, July 3, at 9:30, leaving the 4th as a rain date.

Last year the Spectacular Fireworks were the best ever, according to Gallant, who expects to match or even improve upon last year's performance.

"Family day is certainly my favorite part of the whole events," offered Gallant. "The whole community comes down and so many people are there. The doll carriage parade, the bicycle parade and more. It's just a perfect day."

The Carnival, the proceeds of which help fund the week-long events annually, opens at 6 p.m. on Friday night open until 11:30 that night. The carnival will run through Tuesday evening with varying closing times. Read all about every event for each day in our special supplement to the Crier this

New Wii league gets legs thanks to volunteer

By MELISSA HANSON

WILMINGTON - The Wilmington Senior Center recently instituted a bowling league using a Wii game system that has seniors getting active with the help of 14-year-old Joey Tavanese.

Tavanese was working towards receiving his black belt in karate about a year ago and in order to do so, he needed to complete community service. With the help of his family and senior center director Terri Marciello, Tavanese developed a plan to go to the senior center and bring his Wii to teach the members how to bowl on the game system. "At first seniors were apprehensive," says Marciello, who has noticed a great improvement of the members of the bowling league, named the "Striker Queens."

Tavanese helps quite a bit during the summer and comes by about once a month to help the seniors with their Wii skills.

"At first they had a little bit of trouble, but their Wii

AA+ Bond rating used to finance WHS project

Town's strong financial reserves cited for excellent rating

By AMANDA GELDHOF
Crier Correspondent

WILMINGTON - Town Manager Michael Caira announced Standard & Poor's (S&P) issued an AA+ municipal bond rating for the Town of Wilmington at Monday's Board of Selectmen meeting.

S&P's bond rating applies to the Town's general obligation school bonds, which have been secured to finance the new high school building project, and reaffirms the Town's previously issued bonds at AA+.

"The rating validates the Board's commitment to professional management and reflects the solid work performances of Wilmington employees, the dedication of its many Town officials and the strong support of Wilmington's vast network

Our Fourth was not always as great as it is today

Today's celebration borne out of 250th anniversary festivities

BY LARZ F. NEILSON
Editor Emeritus

WILMINGTON - For anyone under 35, Wilmington's Fourth of July celebration has always been there. Probably started in 1776, right after the Declaration of Independence was signed, huh? No.

For many years, there were no Fourth of July events in Wilmington. Some people would go to Wakefield to see the fireworks.

In the early 1970's, the Wilmington Kiwanis Club began serving a ham and bean supper on the Common, followed by a band concert. About 1975, the senior class at Wilmington High School sought permission to build a gazebo on the Common. The selectmen said no. One of the concerns was that the Common was donated to the town in the 1880s, under the will of Mrs. Sabra Carter. One stipulation in her will was that nothing be built there.

The bicentennial year, 1976, saw a good celebration, but just one evening.

The Class of 1977 approached the selectmen in June 1977 for permission to build a gazebo as its graduation gift to the town. This time, the selectmen said yes. They determined that such a structure was in keeping with the terms of the will.

Led by David MacMillan and Jimmy Stewart, the seniors designed and built the gazebo that stands on the Common today. There had been an earlier bandstand, in the 1890s and into the early 20th Century. It is not known when it was taken down, but in the early 1950s, there was a Little League field on the Common. Much of the Common was a dust-bowl. In the rain, it was a mudhole. Children from the Swain, Center and Buzzell schools used it as a playground.

In the mid 1960s, the Wilmington Women's Club undertook an improvement project, supported by the town. Concrete walks were installed, a new flagpole was erected, and grass was planted.

The construction of the gazebo took place in the summer of 1977. Members of the graduating class and some other volunteers did all the work. Charlie Cushing and Jackie Baldwin donated the forms and considerable labor. Master carpenter Joe Filipowicz designed, and cut the eight-sided roof structure.

With a bandstand on the Common, it's only logical that a summer concert series would be held. The Wilmington Recreation Department put together a great series.

When the town celebrated its 250th anniversary in 1980, the celebration centered around the Fourth of July. The actual anniversary date was Sept. 25, but there was a conflict. It was pure coincidence, but Wilmington was incorporated on the 100th anniversary of the founding of the city of Boston. As Wilmington was observing its 250 anniversary, Boston was marking its 350th. Not only would Boston steal all the thunder, but all the marching band and parade units as well.

The Wilmington 250th Anniversary Committee decided to celebrate the anniversary a couple of months early. Besides, by September, people were back at work or in school. The anniversary celebration lasted all year, with one event a month. The Fourth of July celebration went on for a week.

That started a tradition. The following year, the Fourth of July Committee took over from the 250th Anniversary Committee. That was 31 years ago, and the party's not over yet.

It may have been 90+ degrees outside on Touch-A-Truck day, but the SNOWPLOW was still a big draw!

week. "On behalf on the committee we look forward to seeing everyone down on the common," said Gallant.

Though the carnival aids in offsetting costs for the event, in recent years Wilmington has been the fortunate recipient of Liberty Mutual's Bring Back the Fourth contest, winning $10,000 the last two years to help fund celebration related costs. The insurance company did not renew the Bring Back the Fourth program for 2012.

Be sure to check out all the fantastic events on Family Fun Day beginning bright and early at 7 a.m. with the Local Heroes breakfast for just $5. The rest of the day includes the Model trains exhibit, doll carriage and bike parade, Carnival Wrist Band day ($8 for unlimited rides from 12- 5 p.m.) Face painting, petting zoo, pony rides, kids characters, a baby crawl (at 10 a.m.) the three-legged race, the Tug of War, and Hula Hoop contest. In the afternoon enjoy testing your mettle against your neighbors in sack races, water balloon toss, a bucket brigade, and so much more hometown fun.

AA+ bond rating helps WHS project

of volunteers," Cairra said. According to the Rationale and Outlook statement release by S&P, the strong rating reflects the Town's strengths including low unemployment, access to Boston, strong income and wealth indicators, and available fund balance and surplus.

"We consider the total available general fund balance of $12.3 million very strong at 15.1% of expenditures," the statement indicated. "We understand the town has no plans to spend down reserves."

Cairra said the official statement from S&P indicated the possibility of upward bond rating movement. He said in future assessments the Town could receive a AAA bond rating from S&P, the previous rating S&P gave the U.S. Treasury, traditionally one of the safest investments in the world, before it was downgraded after the debt ceiling debacle last year.

Chairman of the Board of Selectmen Michael Newhouse said the Town's reserves provide the stability to secure the AA+ bond rating.

"The emphasis I see in the S&P summary is the intention of the Town not to spend down its reserves. I think by maintaining reserves we save the Town money in the long run," he said. "I think the bond rating is something many towns would envy."

Bonds for High School Project

Town Manager Cairra said the AA+ bond rating helped to secure 25-year bonds for the new high school building project at a 3.28 percent interest rate.

The Town received seven bids on the bonds that will be used to finance the new high school building project.

The interest rates from the bids ranged from 3.28 percent to 3.66 percent. The lowest bid of 3.28 percent interest rate came from Guggenheim Securities, which was awarded the transaction.

Cairra said with Guggenheim Securities' offer of 3.28 percent interest, the Town would pay approximately $47.16 million dollars over the course of 25 years. He asked advisors what kind of interest rates the Town could have received if its bond rating had been different. He said if the Town had an AA bond rating, it would have likely received the lowest interest rate of 3.35 percent, and at AA- a 3.43 percent rate would be likely. The 3.43 percent interest rate would cost an additional $670,000 in interest payments from the 3.28 percent.

If the Town had received an AAA bond rating, the lowest likely interest rates were estimated to be 3.0-3.1 percent.

Resident Kevin MacDonald expressed concern with the Town moving forward on a project that is currently under appeal with the Department of Environmental Protection (DEP) and what additional costs the Town may incur because of it.

Newhouse and Cairra assured residents that moving forward with the project will not cost the Town anything extra and while the Town cannot begin construction on the site, it is pertinent that the Board continue to secure financing and address all other project needs.

"This project will become a reality," Newhouse said. "It is our hope and our expectation that these appeals are going to be resolved. We are continuing with the business of the Town and following the mandate voters gave us."

He went on to explain that the DEP is expected to issue a Superseding Order of Conditions on the High School Building Project by the end of June.

Going for Gold

Local Girl Scout wins Gold Award

BY DANA BURNHAM
Crier Correspondent

WILMINGTON - When Wilmington resident Katrina Keating became a Brownie as a first grader, she knew that some day she wanted to earn the Girl Scouts' highest honor, the Gold Award. What makes this achievement especially remarkable is that Katrina's Girl Scout troop disbanded two years ago, so she reached this goal on her own, with the help of her one-time troop leader, her mom Karen Keating. A rising senior at the Academy of Notre Dame in Tyngsboro, Katrina is a "Juliette" now, which is the designation, according to Katrina "when you are still in Girl Scouts even though you don't have a troop." Katrina felt that earning the major award in Girl Scouts "is the pinnacle" of a Girl Scout's service and she "wanted to go out on that." The fact that achieving the Gold Award required a community service project appealed to her too.

According to a press release from the Girl Scouts of Eastern Massachusetts, "the Girl Scout Gold Award is the highest award that a Girl Scout can achieve, and it recognizes a service project that fulfills a need within a girl's community whether local or global, creates change, and becomes ongoing. To earn the award, girls must complete the Silver Award and a minimum of 80 hours of service. The project is more than a good service project—it encompasses organizational, leadership, and networking skills. Just five percent, approximately, of all Girl Scouts earn this award each year."

The Girl Scouts of Eastern Massachusetts described Katrina's accomplishment: "Keating's Gold Award project, Upkeep of Historical Buildings, highlighted local historical landmarks in need of repair and raised awareness of the need for ongoing preservation. Keating and a group of volunteers began by repairing the stairs and performing other general maintenance for the local food pantry. Keating then collected data on historical properties and community projects that needed attention and volunteers. She created a website to list the landmarks that needed repair, and to enlist Wilmington Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts and volunteers from the community to assist with these projects. Members of the community, town department heads and project consultants have agreed to maintain the website." All together, Katrina spent 80 hours on the project.

Katrina received her Girl Scout Gold Award pin on Wednesday, June 20 at a ceremony at the Boxborough Holiday Inn. The event was attended by family, friends and Girl Scouts of Eastern Massachusetts' CEO, Ruth N. Bramson, and Board President, Peggy Stevens.

It's Your Money
WHAT IS AN ANNUITY?

An annuity is promise - a contract - to pay you a certain amount for a stated period of time, often for the rest of your life. It's the ultimate in guaranteed income. Or is it?

There are actually several kinds of annuities. Best known, perhaps, is the immediate annuity. Invest a substantial sum of money - part of your 401(k) cash value, perhaps - with a reputable insurer who guarantees a certain income for life. Annuities can be laddered to take advantage of better interest rates.

Variable annuities promise more and cost more. Best for young savers, they offer tax-deferred growth with a guaranteed minimum benefit and the potential for a greater return if the investment mix you choose does well. Investors can buy in all at once or over a period of years and generally wait until retirement age to start taking income. Optional riders that let you take income even in a poor market and leave assets to heirs are what really raise the cost.

Letters to the editor

Environmental impact of Ledges project on town line

To the Editor,

On June 20, 2012, the citizens and abutters filled City Hall to capacity to show their opposition to the 40B permit extension for substantial changes at 1042 Main Street. Information regarding chemical leaking through bedrock from the Olin Plant in Wilmington was briefly discussed. The EPA thinks it should be considered during the blasting, and monitor wells around the site. The problem is that they are basing their opinion on the old project. The six story 168 units with underground parking and removal of 200,000 cu yards is the plan they based their opinion on. We are now faced with a project that will blast 400,000 cu yards of material from the site.

The removal of this amount of material is sure to change many things. Trucks will use Eames Street in Wilmington to travel to Route 93 to dump the material off to other businesses involved in this project. They will also use Main Street to travel south to Route 128. At this point we do not know how many trips will occur, or how long it will take to excavate this mountain of ledge. I do think, that this is information that will be disclosed at the last minute by the applicant.

BOA members complained that documents from the applicant are being received with little or no time to read any of the material. I do think that this is the tactic that enables the applicant to have a leg up on the board. I have attended these BOA meetings, and have listened to many misleading estimates by the applicant. It is kind of like spoon feeding us.....just a taste of what is to come.

The EPA states that the Olin Plant should be considered during blasting. From my view point there is no guarantee that the Olin Plant chemical leaks will not travel further through the bedrock. Blasting and heavy trucking is bound to cause damage to the streets and infrastructure that lie beneath these roads. That silica dust does exist, as well on the mountain. Just a little! Oh perhaps 10% or so. Not so sure I believe that one either! The 25% increase in blasting material turned into a 100% increase. This was refuted as an error in separating ledge from soil. They based the silica dust figure on 3 or 4 test pits. A margin of error must exist here.

At this point there are too many risks to health, safety and the environment that were not considered in the original permitted project. I liken the 40B statue to mean.....ask for a little to push the appeal through, then sell off and ask for the moon in substantial changes. CMR 760 56.0 seems to favor the applicant with endless remedies to keep this permit alive.

Suzanne Sullivan of Wilmington who serves on the Environmental Restoration Committee has asked who will take responsibility? So far no one is stepping up to the plate on that one.

The next Woburn BOA meeting is on July 18, 2012. This is our last chance to convince the BOA that the possible risks to health, safety, and the environment, outweighs the need for affordable housing on this piece of land.

Sincerely,
Tim & Linda Ahern

The final frontier

By SCOTT J. MULLOWNEY
Staff Columnist

I first learned the internet was running out of room when I was reading a message board post with the attention grabbing headline: The Internet Is Running Out Of Room. I had to know more. The link attached to the message was a video from a very important looking man named Vint Cerf, Chief Internet Evangelist at Google, and a founding father of the internet. He explained how the internet's lack of space could be problematic, but he had a solution. IPv4, the current version of the internet, will transition to IPv6, a larger, more expansive, all-encompassing invisible cloud/black hole where data is stored once it is created. (IP version 5 was strangely absent from discussion, so the internet is streaking straight to version 6.) Things happen at blinding speed on the internet superhighway. Try to keep up, people.

The powers that be (whoever they are) caught this problem just in time. I'm already running out of room to store things in my brain that I've come across on the internet, so any extra storage space is welcomed by me. I could make some suggestions on what to cut out to make more cyber room for all the important stuff we really need.

I'd start with limiting the amount of personal space people can use on Facebook. Do I really need to know my "friend" Mary just turned in a 30% coupon at Domino's Pizza? According to her Facebook profile photo, she looks like she could use 30% less pizza. Another "friend", Melinda, is going to yoga class to clear her mind (so she can spend more time stressing over other people's Facebook status updates who are having a much more fulfilled life than she is). At least the folks at Twitter have the sense to limit a person's thoughts to 140 characters. Short and to the point. Now that's my kind of application. YouTube is filled with tons of useless videos wasting mega amounts of space (and lots of time). Do I need to watch previews for "Mrs. Doubtfire" and "Mary Poppins" that have been re-edited into horror movie trailers? Okay, those can stay. Have you seen the YouTube video for the song Chocolate Rain by Tay Zonday? It has 80 million views and counting. How about banning all postings of cats doing cute things. That should free up enough space for a whole other internet. And what about the constant barrage of junk email, coupons and Groupons, one-day sales and chain letters from acquaintances I barely know. There should be a pre-set disintegrate button to destroy these things before they make their way into my already overflowing electronic inbox.

What are scientists doing to correct the internet's shrinking storage dilemma? The solution is something akin to creating SkyNet, a global big-brother network in the sky to act as cyberspace air-traffic controllers. Unfortunately, this will probably lead to the creation of the Terminators (just like in the movies). And when the sentient robots revolt and flex their mental and physical superiority, we might not have the technology to stop them. I prefer this doomsday scenario over the zombie apocalypse ending. That looks really nasty.

Maybe we shouldn't reboot the internet at all. Maybe an electronic cleansing is just what the world needs. If I were you I'd start backing up my files now. I'm sure once the world wide computer system crashes and burns and my data is zapped into irretrievable oblivion, it's only going to erase the one important thing I was too lazy to make a back-up copy of.

Happens all the time.

Letters to the editor

Thanks to the Tewksbury Fire Department

Dear Editor,
Alma and Bob McLaughlin want to thank the Tewksbury Fire Department for the professional job they did with our house.

Thank you again,

Why do we place unusual burdens on high achievers?

Dear Editor,
Nearly every day successful people and even industries come under attack and everyday hard working Americans lose jobs as a result. Instead of attacking businesses that are showing a profit we should work with them and enjoy the benefits they provide to the communities they serve. Find out why they have enjoyed success where others have failed. Does the government have the right to pick winners and losers?

Our Nanny government has decided that they must manage every facet of our lives and the results are beginning to show in a negative way. When businesses are forced to spend large amounts of money defending their operation and hiring additional administrative staff to satisfy unreasonable regulations it may be time to relocate their business to an area less hostile.

Beacon Hill Democrats led by John Tierney (D) and others voted against repealing Massachusetts Medical Device Tax.

Is this a good time for Massachusetts to be playing Russian roulette with a struggling job market?

According to Massachusetts Medical Device Industries, their exports in Massachusetts have grown at twice the rate as Mass. exports as a whole, producing 10% of the states total exports.

The world is getting smaller, China is watching and waiting. Are we providing an excuse for industries to move their facilities elsewhere?

Beacon Hill is not helping unemployed workers as the numbers of unemployed continue to rise. We punish achievement with higher taxes eventually forcing an industry to relocate. Then we attempt to figure out how to plug the hole the tax increase created. We need to help businesses succeed by lowering taxes and eliminating unnecessary regulations as other countries have done. Leave some of the profits for the employees.

We need a new attitude toward successful people and businesses; they are not our enemy. Cease confiscating profits through taxation and then moving that taxpayer money to poorly managed companies such as Solyndra.

U.S. companies need a competitive edge. If we lowered taxes and reduced regulations many of our people will return to work enjoying higher salaries. Companies require profits to attract risk takers into the investment market. Our 401K's rise and fall with the stock market. Without investors we will all fail. Improving the bottom line benefits everyone. What will happen to U.S. companies and the economy a year from now if more investors move their money to China or into the gold market?

The job you save may be your own.

Vispoli: No New Taxes

ANDOVER—Today Alex Vispoli, Republican candidate for the State Senate in the Second Essex and Middlesex district, announced that he has signed Citizens for Limited Taxation's "No New Taxes" pledge.

"I am proud to sign this pledge. It shows my commitment to the families of this district. As a father and husband, I know how taxes can eat away at a household budget. We need to look for ways to control state spending so we can reduce our tax burden," said Vispoli.

The "No New Taxes" pledge clearly states as a member of the Massachusetts Senate Alex Vispoli will oppose and vote against any and all efforts to increase taxes. Vispoli supports rolling back the sales tax to 5% and the income tax to 5% as promised to the voters. Moreover, he will actively work against the Governor's plans to create a sugar tax and a mileage tax.

"As the next State Senator, I will take a leadership role in finding savings to reduce our tax burden. I will not be a legislator who just co-sponsors legislation and let's others do the work. The taxpayers can count on me to work hard at the issues. I'm not running because I need a job. I'm running to help the families," said Vispoli. "I will be a Senator the taxpayers can count on to protect their paycheck and savings."

Vispoli understands by cutting taxes it will spur new economic growth and thus revive our economy.

"Having worked in the private sector for 25 years, I know how taxes can hurt business development and job growth. I will use my experience to make a difference on Beacon Hill," added Vispoli.

Vincent See completes Marine basic training

NORFOLK, VA - Marine Corps Pvt. Vincent H. See, son of Rhonda D. and Harry L. See of Wilmington, recently completed 12 weeks of basic training at Marine Corps Recruit Depot, Parris Island, South Carolina, designed to challenge new Marine recruits both physically and mentally.

See and fellow recruits began their training at 5:00 a.m. by running three miles and performing calisthenics. In addition to the physical conditioning program, See spent numerous hours in classroom and field assignments which included learning first aid, uniform regulations, combat water survival, marksmanship, hand-to-hand combat and assorted weapons training. They performed close order drill and operated as a small infantry unit during field training.

See and other recruits also received instruction on the Marine Corps' core values: honor, courage and commitment, and what the core values mean in guiding personal and professional conduct.

See and fellow recruits ended the training phase with The Crucible, a 54-hour, team evolution culminating in an emotional ceremony in which recruits are presented the Marine Corps Emblem, and addressed as "Marines" for the first time in their careers.

Brave: You Gotta Have Fate

By CATHERINE FRANCIS
Town Crier Intern

Pixar has produced many outstanding films throughout the years; Up brought us new adventures, Finding Nemo chronicled a father's search to find his son, and Toy Story 3 gave us a lesson in growing up. Unfortunately, the new Brave did not give us too many gifts other than just bring an all around good movie. But that's enough.

Set in Scotland, the young princess Merida, voice by Kelly Macdonald (Harry Potter films, Nanny McPhee, Love Actually) Merida runs away to find a secret spell that will change her fate. However, this is a great movie for the entire family, not just children, but for their parents as well. Unlike Madagascar 3, every adult who came to theater brought along at least one child. Most of the parents appeared to enjoy themselves. If you don't like Brave, I am sure that you will like La Luna, the animated short that is the opening act for Brave.

Pixar produced the most creative animated movies from 1995 on. Brave is no exemption to their previous works of art. The main character, Merida, has long, curly red hair. Every detail, from each strand of hair reflecting the sun's rays to each strand of fabric in a tapestry comes to life with the computerized magic of Pixar.

Hand-in-hand with computer animation comes voice acting. The voice-over work, likewise, was terrific. All the actors and actresses became their character, unlike some other actors. Emma Thompson was a great comparison to Billy Connolly, voice of Fergus, Merida's father. Connolly (Lemony Snicket's A Series of Unfortunate Events; The Last Samurai) plays a heroic king who has a rollicking sense of humor that makes the audience, as well as his daughter, laugh.

In the beginning of the film, the plot moves along smoothly where Merida, a strong girl with keen athletic and outdoor ability, finds herself in a constant battle with her mother who wants her to fill a more traditional princess archetype. That is, until the halfway mark. Awkward scriptwriting reduces the plot from excellent to good, in a way that no amount of computer agility can mask.

Fate - something unavoidable that befalls a person. Throughout the story, Merida talks about her fate over and over again. Now it's your turn to challenge fate and go see this film. Although it is not as wonderful as Finding Nemo or Up, Brave has one thing that all the other films do not have - a story highlighting the role of fate and how growing up is not as scary as it may seem.

Let's Hear it!!

Your Two Cents...

Thumbs up for Lou

Two thumbs up for the town leadership and Lou Cimaglia. The town leadership deserves credit for recognizing the need to support and assist our local veterans by creating the Veterans Agent position and filling that position with Lou. Lou has done a great job of keeping the service and sacrifice of our veterans in the center of the town's public conscience as well as providing valuable services for our veterans. In addition, he is a driving force behind the local heroes efforts and it is great to see him get the recognition he deserves and some needed funding for the program. Keep up the good work LOU.

Missing wallet thanks

A big thumbs up to all who helped me find my missing wallet on Sunday morning. The early morning staff at CVS and Market Basket in Wilmington were so kind. And a special thanks to the anonymous customer who noticed it and brought it to the courtesy booth. That is what Wilmington is all about!! A small donation to the Wilmington Food Pantry has been sent to honor your kindness. Thanks again!!!

Farmer's Market fun

A big thumbs up to Laura Osgood and the girls from Wilmington Dance Academy for a great performance at the Wilmington Farmers Market on opening day. I also saw them at the WCTV anniversary event AND Relay for Life and they are all to be commended for their community service. Laura Osgood is one of the finest role models we have for the young women of Wilmington!

Great job Flash Mob!

Thumbs way up for the flash mob that started things off with a bang on opening day at the farmers market this year. Allison Danciewicz and friends did an outstanding job entertaining (and surprising) us all!

Tewksbury traffic flow for the Fourth

TEWKSBURY - Tewksbury Police released a plan this week for traffic related to Fireworks Wednesday, July 4 (rain date Friday, July 6th)

The traffic from Main Street entering Livingston Street, as well as East Street entering Livingston Street, will be shut down at roughly 9 p.m. or as soon as the parking lots are full.

The estimated start time for the fireworks display will be at 9:30 p.m. After the display has ended, all traffic from the upper lot (Hazel Field) will be directed towards Main Street. Traffic exiting from the upper lot up towards Main Street will be sent south on Main Street, toward Wilmington.

All traffic from the lower lots will be directed toward East Street. Due to anticipated heavy traffic on Main Street from residents parking in the Brooks Plaza, Mahoney's Garden Center, and the Wynn Middle School, all traffic exiting those locations will be sent north on Main Street towards Chandler Street.

Residents should consider the parking plan in advance of the evening.

One sweet kitty Meet Candy

TEWKSBURY - Candy just the word can elicit sweet childhood memories- mouthful of gumballs, unwrapping your favorite chocolate bar, zipping you back to an easier time. Our sweet Candy girl had an easier life until her owner became ill and the family decided to give up their two young cats (Candy's less than eighteen months old). Now Candy is waiting to fill your world with sweet new memories. So friendly and affectionate, she just wants to be close. Candy is stunning; with her white diamond face, pretty caramel and chocolate colorings, tabby stripes on her head and tail but not on her body, unique for a tabby. Her short, pretty fur compliments her slender figure. Candy was the "middle child" with little attention paid. Once Candy bonds with you, she becomes very attached, a real lap cat. She is ok with dogs and cats she has met, but is not looking for a playmate. If you like a cat that you can snuggle in your arms like a baby, Candy's your girl. Summertime is here and what better way to sweeten your life, but with Candy. For an adoption application or to see our other adoptable kittens & cats, visit www.lolcr.org or email us @ LOL\_CR@hotmail.com; or call 781-850-6684. ## WMS students sweep biomedical competition

CHELMSFORD - Students from Wilmington Middle School captured all six prizes in the middle school division of the 21st Annual Student Competition sponsored by the Massachusetts Society for Medical Research (MSMR).

In this competition, the students were asked to become science reporters and tell the story of a recent biomedical research discovery at a New England-based research organization. The competition was open to any 7th or 8th grade student in New England.

"It was kind of stunning," said Alan Dittrich, President of the Mass. Society for Medical Research, Inc, told the Crier. "It has been 8 or 9 years since we've had a sweep of a division. I think 2005 was the last time that all the winners of a single division were captured by a single school."

Entrants could submit their news as a poster, an essay or a website. All six of the winning students elected the website format.

The winners and their topics are:

- |                     |   |
|---------------------|---|
| First Place  | Vincent PietropaoloGene Therapy That May Lead to a Cure for Deafness |
| Second Place | Ryan FischerBreast Cancer Stem Cell Research                         |
| Third Place  | Bridget SullivanMRI images visually strengthen our understanding     |

- |                     |  |
|---------------------|--|
| Hon. Mention | Annie RomanzoA Big Step Taken in The Battle of Curing Lung Cancer |
| Hon. Mention | Meghan McMahonA Genetic Influence on Cancer                       |
| Hon. Mention | Nupur NeogiNew Leukemia DNA Profiles                              |

Mrs. Jennifer Judkins of Wilmington Middle School encouraged her 8 Explorer Science students to participate in the competition and more than 20 did.

The winning students received their awards at the MSMR Annual Meeting on June 14th at the Colonnade Hotel in Boston. The principal speaker for the evening was Dr. Charles Steinberg of the Boston Red Sox.

This year's competition was judged by volunteer members of the Massachusetts Society for Medical Research.

The mission of the Massachusetts Society for Medical Research is to promote and enhance biomedical and biological research, including the humane care and use of animals, for the improved health and well-being of people, animals and the environment.

The goal of MSMR is to foster a better understanding of biomedicine by improving basic literacy in and enthusiasm for the biological sciences among the public, the media, and future generations.

RMLD plans to reinforce and enhance its internal training related to diversity in the workplace and will create a diversity committee to review future RMLD projects to ensure that this insensitivity does not reoccur.

Once again, RMLD extends its deepest apologies to anyone offended by this picture.

Selectmen stand up for freedom of speech

said that because a person serves on a Board in the Town does not mean their rights of free speech are taken away.

"I don't understand why a gentleman can't have an opinion or vote the way he wants to just because he serves as a volunteer of the Town," he said.

Selectwoman Judy O'Connell said that she is denying the request and that Lingenfelter has recently exercised his freedom of speech when he took out an ad that called the members of the Board of Selectmen ignorant, but that doesn't give anyone the right to remove him from any position he holds.

Charles River Labs

Beginning with the amendment of a flammable license for Charles River Laboratories on Ballardvale Street. Environmental Health and Safety Manager of Charles River Labs Jason Burrill explained that the majority of flammable liquids on site are stored for use with the lab's back-up generators. He said because the Lab works in a very sensitive field, many of the materials and animal welfare depend on the back-up generators in the case of emergencies.

New Dunks

The meeting moved on to discuss the common victualler license for a new Dunkin Donuts in the office park at 66 Concord Street. According to Adam Quinn, president of DJQ Donuts, the new store would be located in the corner space two units down from Sandwich Exchange. DJQ Donuts also owns 2 Dunkin Donuts stores on Lowell Street and one on Middlesex Avenue in Wilmington. The Board approved the license contingent upon DJQ Donuts meeting all requirements from the Board of Health, Building Inspector and the Planning Board. Quinn said he has already been in contact with all three entities.

Town Manager transition
Assistant Town Manager Jeff Hull has begun seeking a new assistant town manager as part of the transition process of becoming Town Manager. The assistant town manager title has been updated to include human resource director.

Hull has notified the Massachusetts Municipal Personnel Association (MMPA) and the Massachusetts Municipal Managers' Association (MMA) with the expectation that the information will be shared at the organizations' next meetings. The position notice will be sent to the Massachusetts Municipal Association (MMA) to publish in The Beacon and is posted in Town Hall and on the Town's website: www.town.wilmington.ma.us.

In other preparations for transition into his new role as Town Manager, Hull has contacted the Town's department heads to discuss major purchases and projects, any active litigation, personnel matters, key deadlines, long-term issues and other priorities. Each department is expected to provide a document outlining these and other concerns by the end of June.

"As the documents are received I am scheduling meetings with department heads for July," Hull said. "My goal is to meet with most, if not all, department heads by the end of July."

Town Counsel

The Board of Selectmen then agreed to renew the Town Counsel Contract for fiscal year 2013. Caira said nothing in the contract has changed except the dates.

The Ledges project in Woburn

Also during Public Comments Suzanne Sullivan requested that Wilmington residents join her at the next meeting concerning a project in Woburn along the Wilmington line on Woburn Street. She said the project may result in the removal of up to 400,000 cubic yards of materials (16,000 truck loads or more) to be moved through Wilmington streets.

"It could have a huge impact on Wilmington residents, residents that are not far from this project," Sullivan said.

The next meeting about the project will be July 18 at the Woburn City Hall, 10 Common Street in Woburn.

Selectman Michael Champoux closed the meeting with a wish for a safe and happy holiday celebration over the fourth of July.

"Represent us well as you always do every year. You as residents come out and celebrate in a positive manner," he said.

Science shining stars!

Bridget Sullivan came in third place in the Massachusetts Society for Medical Research student competition with her website project, shown here, titled MRI images visually strengthen our understanding of ASD's and TS. Wilmington students swept all the prizes for the middle school division. Each student had Mrs. Jennifer Judkins for their science teacher this year. Congratulations!

By PATRICK BLAIS

WOBURN - A pretrial hearing scheduled for today in the John Maguire murder case has been postponed until Sept. 20, according to officials from the Middlesex Superior Courthouse.

The three defendants in the case, including Newburyport's Arthur Cinelli, whose brother is accused of firing the shots that mortally wounded the veteran patrolman, were supposed to appear in court this afternoon for an evidentiary suppression hearing.

No reason was cited for the postponement.

Besides being accused of helping his sibling, career criminal Domenic Cinelli, plot the Dec. 26, 2010 jewelry heist at Kohl's department store in E. Woburn during the height of a blizzard, the 51-year-old also allegedly helped his deceased brother rob Stoneham's Stop & Shop at gunpoint a month earlier.

The 51-year-old is charged with conspiracy to commit masked armed robbery and accessory before the fact to masked armed robbery in the Maguire case, while facing an indictment for two counts of armed robbery, two counts of stealing by confining, and larceny over $250 for the hold-up at Stop & Shop on Nov. 14, 2010.

The Newburyport resident, himself a career criminal who reportedly characterized himself as the epitome of a truly reformed parolee, is currently being held at Ray Brook Federal Prison in New York on yet another set of charges in an unrelated drug case.

Domenic Cinelli was killed as he tried to flee the scene into a largely residential neighborhood off of Washington Street near the Reading line.

Authorities believe that Maguire, having already been mortally wounded, heroically squeezed off a round from his service revolver — the first time he ever discharged his weapon while on-duty — and downed Cinelli before he could escape and very likely cause more havoc in the neighborhood.

Arthur Cinelli, who was apparently in New Hampshire recovering from surgery the night of the Kohl's robbery, allegedly gave his brother advice about the robbery and was in contact with him via telephone.

In the wake of Maguire's death, when it was learned that Cinelli had been paroled despite having been convicted of three life sentences, elected officials, family members, and citizens from across the state demanded that the parole system be reformed.

Though the incident eventually led to the resignation of all but one member of the state's parole board, a bill that would toughen parole standards and force repeat violent offenders to serve their entire jail sentence after a third conviction has yet to be passed by the state Legislature.

Valerie Robyn Belding was inadvertently left off the list of graduating seniors from Wilmington High School. The Crier congratulates Ms. Belding and all WHS grads. We regret the error.

skills have improved progressively," says Tavanese. He was even able to get a friend of his to donate his Wii to the senior center, which sparked the beginning of the league. Tavanese is currently helping at the senior center to prepare the newer members of the team for their upcoming July tournament.

"I have learned a lot of things from them," says Tavanese, "they really do have a lot of fun."

Mary D'eon has been a member of the league since its inception and has witnessed the great impact the Wii has had on the senior center. The team has bowled with and against seniors citizens in their 90s and has even seen blind members participate. She says the all seniors look forward to playing and the Wii has created a healthy sense of competition. When the Wii was first introduced to the senior center many members had to play sitting down or couldn't use the Wii controller with ease, but now can play standing up with no issues according to D'eon. The league currently participates in tournaments against Woburn's Country Club Heights Assisted Living Facility and may begin to compete with Reading's senior center.

"I have enjoyed it very much...it's been a lot of fun," says D'eon, "the people we bowl against are phenomenal."

Because of his help, Marciello and the seniors have named Tavanese the captain of the bowling team, and have even had shirts made up for members to wear during tournaments. Once the seniors master bowling they may move on to other sports with the Wii, including golf.

Tavanese was given a volunteer appreciation award in April because of his help with the seniors. They also threw him a small celebration when he received his black belt, the opportunity that got him involved at the senior center a year ago.

"He has helped out tremendously...he's a phenomenal kid," says Marciello.

Chairman for two years, when an internal power struggle within the ranks of Democratic leadership had Speaker Robert DeLeo reshuffle the ranks in January 2011. Murphy was named House Majority Whip, but stepped down in December 2011 among reported maneuverings and alleged whispered comments from Murphy that an ongoing probe of the State Department of Probation would be DeLeo's undoing. He resigned as Whip to avoid a vote calling for his ouster. Since December, Murphy tried to push a reform agenda but could not gain traction for his initiatives.

"It played into the decision insofar as I had a pretty good run, but things didn't play out my way," Murphy told the Crier this week, when asked if the matters leading up to his resignation of his Majority Whip role impacted his decision. "Having held these high profile positions - sticking around in a back bench capacity doesn't appeal to me."

While he cited specific achievements for Bedford and Burlington, he did not reference Wilmington achievements in his statement. He was, however, a fixture at meetings in town related to Olin Chemical Superfund site and maintained an interest in environmental matters.

"I will always look back at my time as Chairman of the House Committee on Ways and Means as the most meaningful and challenging time in my professional career," said Murphy, going on to praise his "intelligent and motivated" staff that helped bring in two extremely challenging budgets on time.

"When I first ran for office I was asked many times 'why?'. My answer then and now has remained the same-to help people," he said. "Please be assured that your support, encouragement and even criticism were always deeply appreciated. I can never repay you for all you have done for my family and me and I hope that we can continue to work together in other ways for the betterment of our communities and the Commonwealth."

Walter Zenkin, a Burlington selectman, is pursuing a write-in campaign for the Republican nomination. Dave Fionda, a Burlington resident and CPA has thrown his hat into the ring for the Democratic ticket. Murphy had been the only candidate to file papers to run for the seat this year.

Wilmington Youth Soccer

Under 14-2 Girls take home state title

By MIKE IPPOLITO
Sports Correspondent

It takes a special group of players to have a championship team. You need some star players, naturally, in order to compete for a title, but more importantly, you need a group of players willing to work together for the good of the team. You need a group willing to sacrifice themselves for the ultimate goal of winning a title.

The Wilmington Youth Soccer Association (WYSA) can be very proud of the fact that one of their teams recently showed they have exactly what it takes to be a champion, as the WYSA's Girls U14-2 team had all of those qualities on display this past weekend when they rolled to the state championship at the Massachusetts Tournament of Champions (MTOC) held at the Citizens Bank Fields in Lancaster.

The U14-2 Wildcats were absolutely dominant on their way to capturing the title, outscoring their three opponents in the round robin preliminary portion of the tournament by a combined score of 13-0 and by an equally dominant 20-2 total for the entire tournament as they went 5-0 over the course of the three day tourney.

Wilmington coach Leo Figueiredo, who had coached most of the members of this team since they were playing U9 soccer, was very proud of what his team accomplished, but was not entirely surprised given the commitment he knew this group of players had put into the season.

"I envisioned them doing this, because I know we have been teaching them the proper technique on how to play soccer and how to improve their overall game and they have done everything the coaches have asked of them," Figueiredo said. "This championship is all about them and the work they put it in to earn it. They are a special group. They have confidence in their abilities and they did a great job."

The Wildcats clinched the title with a 5-1 win on Sunday over West Springfield of the Pioneer Valley League, just the latest in a string of very strong performances by the entire team.

They were led to victory in the championship game by an incredible four goal effort from team leading scorer Cecilia Chase, who had a great tournament. Christina Woods scored the Wildcats other goal, while the combination of Woods and Olivia O'Regan continued their remarkable play in net.

"That wasn't our best game of the tournament, but we played very well," Figueiredo said. "We didn't really know a lot about them, but during warmups we could sort of tell that their skill level was not quite as high as ours, and then we went out and played well to win the game."

The Wildcats toughest game of the tournament was also the contest where they were at their best, as they pulled out a hard fought 2-1 win over Mansfield in the state semi-finals.

Once again it was Chase with the biggest goal of the game for the Redmen, scoring the game winner with about 12 minutes left in the game. The goal came less than a minute after Mansfield had tied the score at 1-1. Nadia Barletta had given Wilmington a 1-0 lead about five minutes into the first half.

"That was a great response by our team," Figueiredo said. "Mansfield was a very good team. They were physically stronger than us and they gave us a very good game."

Wilmington had earned their way into the semi-final round by crushing their first three opponents in the tournament.

They started the tourney with a pair of 5-0 wins on Friday beating Easton in their first game at 11:00 a.m. and following that up with a blowout of Peabody at 3:30 p.m..

"We just came out ready to play," Figueiredo said. "The weekend before we had faced some very tough competition in the Commissioner's Cup so that helped us and we had faced very tough competition all year long. All of our girls are just 13 years old and they had been facing 14 year olds all year long so they were used to tough competition."

The Wildcats wrapped up their preliminary round play with a 3-0 win over Pepperell on Saturday before moving on take on Mansfield and West Springfield.

While the offense was certainly clicking for the Wildcats, they also got outstanding efforts in goal from O'Regan and Woods as the pair shared duties throughout the preliminary round. O'Regan played the entire game against Mansfield, while they once again shared the duties in the championship win over West Springfield.

"They both played great," Figueiredo said. "It's a big advantage for us to have two goalies like that."

While O'Regan and Woods

obviously stood out for their outstanding play in net and Chase stood out for her scoring exploits, Figueiredo felt that every member of the team contributed to the championship.

"To be honest, it was a combination of the entire team together that helped us win," Figueiredo said. "They could not have done it without each other. They were all willing to sacrifice themselves for the team. We had defenders willing to play forward and forwards willing to play defense. They were a very unselfish team.

"They looked forward to playing with each other and they look forward to being together. They are a special group. I have had most of them since they were nine years old and they have always been willing to learn to get better. You show them something and they are like a sponge. They take it in and apply it in practice and then bring it to the game."

The WYSA Girls U14-2 team members were Daria Bakhtiari, Danielle Baldi, Nadia Barletta, Sarah Berube, Cecilia Chase, Stephanie Figueiredo, Samantha Grasso, Julianna Iocco, Madison Knibbs, Julianna Mastroilli, Kayla McCauley, Heather Niemiec, Olivia O'Regan, Katherine Rogomentich, Jayne Wierzbicki and Christina Woods.

Tewksbury U15 Red Lacrosse team picks off two opponents

The Tewksbury Boys Under 15 Red Lacrosse team participated in the Patriot Cup tournament recently and came away with two wins over Methuen, 4-2 and Littleton 9-8.

Protecting their home turf, Tewksbury played their best two games of the year coming out victorious both times. Both games were extremely physical contests, which included hard hits by the solid defensive team of Matty McLaughlin, JP Mooney, and Nick Georgopoulos. They dared anyone to try to get near their Goalie Kyle Spiller who chalked up the two wins for the Redmen making a ton of nice saves.

If the opposing team tried to mount any offensive attack, the D-Team made them pay for thinking about it. Second year player Luc Surette finished his U15 season with a monster day tallying up four goals and two assists over the two games. He was determined to move on to the High School level leaving behind his mark. Tyler Harvey also had 4 goals on the day, which included a hat trick in the second game vs. Littleton to help Tewksbury keep their lead in this close contest.

Turning on the jets like in every game, Ryan Sheehan left the Methuen and Littleton players in the dust and had two goals, one unassisted off a face off in game 2. Finding a home at the X position this year Ryan Flynn continued this setting up several other scores as he's done all season as well as found the net himself to add one to the tally. Nathan Dooley added in one goal using a nice low ground ball shot fooling the opposing goalie.

After several hard attempts and exceptional effort Nick Muise also had a goal, which ended up being the game winner in the Littleton game. Playing hard and helping to keep both teams out of the attacking zone were middies Cam Connors, Jared Ward, Jacob Cofer, Jeff Horton, and Matt Merrick. They ran hard all afternoon getting back to help out on defense, and gained ball possession to set up more offensive chances.

Attackers Billy Tamboli, Ryan Wackrow, David Scarpa, Tanner Scott, Robert Paltrineri and Michael Spinale each worked the ball around the net with nice passing to help set up many of the scores. The entire team played great in both games making their coaches Stephen Lamoureux, Steve McLaughlin, Craig Archaubeault, and Zach Lamoureux very proud.

The coaching staff would like to thank the team for a fun season and the parents for all of their help and support this year.

Tewksbury Youth Travel Soccer wrap-up

The Tewksbury U9-1 girls travel soccer team were crowned Mass Cup Champs and ended the season on a high note.

Game 1: In the opener of a three game set on Saturday, the Girls 9-1 team won a close one with a 2-1 victory of the Tewksbury 9-2 team. Scoring the goals, Alyssa Marchelletta and Lexi Polimeno.

Game 2: The girls pulled out a 5-0 win over the Tewksbury 9-3 team. Scoring was provided by, Adrianna Niles with two, Alyssa Marchelletta with two and Erin McIntyre with one.

Game 3: In a battle between the 9-1 and 10-1 girl's teams. The Little Lady Redmen played a solid start to finish game and came out with a 3-0 victory to finish the day 3-0 and end up in a virtual tie with the Bayside Breakers from Rhode Island. Scoring the goals, Alyssa Marchelletta, Adrianna Niles and Jesse McCullough.

Shoot Out: Due to tying the Breakers in every tie-breaker. Sunday Morning started, with a shoot-out to determine the first seed. Julie Figucia started the fun and blasted one by the keeper. Jesse McCullough netted another and the girls won 2-1 behind BrickWallBrenna Cassidy's superb goal keeping.

Game 4: The first game was a rematch against the 9-2 team. The girls game away with a 5-1 victory. Scoring the goals, Adrianna Niles with three and Jesse with two.

Game 5: In what was probably the most intense and toughest battle of the year. The Little Lady Redmen displayed composure and true teamwork in a 1-0 win over another true U9 team, the Bayside Breakers, a club team from Rhode Island. Adrianna Niles was mind blowing in net the first half with 10 clutch saves and scored the game winner in the second half.

Superior teamwork provided by Tess Barrett, Julie Figucia, Alexis Raymond, Katie McDonald, Makayla Paige and Erin Sands.

GU14-2

Game 1: The Redmen were behind this entire game until their leader, Emily Sessa, scored 2 huge goals to tie the game. Her first goal was an unassisted strike over the keeper's head. With just two minutes left in the game Sessa scored her second goal on a great pass from Maddy Wescott. She went top shelf again and tied the game. The game ended in a 2-2 tie.

Game 2: The Redmen played Burlington and their opponent struck first once again on a drive down the right side. The shot was wide and Sam Mercurio deflected it but it went right back to a Burlington player who tapped it in. Ashley Figucia tied the game on a pass from Sessa and the defense got back on track for rest of the game. Sessa scored her 3rd of the day on a great pass from Kayla Devlin. The Redmen won 2-1.

Game 3: The Redmen could end the day in first place with a win against North Andover and Sessa got the scoring started on a penalty kick. Once again she went high and this has proven to be an unstoppable shot. Kate Gilbert made some great first half saves but one got by her and the first half ended in a 1-1 tie. Sam Surowiec, Kelly Fortier, Stephanie Travis, and Victoria Mirabito had their hands full against the North Andover strikers but they held their own for the first half with help from their mids.

In the second half, North Andover offense went into high gear and scored two bombs over Gilbert's head. Allison Piricini, Mercurio, Wescott, and Tayler Laycox fought hard in the middle of the field but the Redmen could not score again and dropped this game to end the first day in third place.

Semifinals: On Sunday, the team found themselves against the one opponent that beat them the previous day. The team was playing short handed as Travis and Laycox were injured on Saturday and Fortier was not available to play. Thanks to the help of two U12-1 players Rachel Sessa and Isabelle Picher the defense and midfield was fortified with some strong help. Rachel Sessa and Picher were not intimidated by the larger field or the older players and made an immediate impact. Surowiec moved to the middle (due to the absence of Fortier) and Surowiec along with both Sessa's, Devlin, and Mirabito all went the distance in this double overtime, shoot out game.

The game ended in a scoreless tie after two overtime periods. With Gilbert in net Emily Sessa took the first shot and scored, Sarah Baptista just missed high, Rachel Sessa scored, Mirabito scored, and Devlin scored but North Andover snuck all of their shots passed Gilbert and won the shoot out to advance to the finals against Tewksbury's U14-1 team.

In the finals, Tewksbury's GU14-1 team dominated the play and was crowned champions.

Wilmington resident a member of Matignon High Softball team

Cahill reflects on successful season

By MIKE IPPOLITO
Sports Correspondent

Wilmington native Ryen Cahill and her Matignon High Softball teammates fell just short of their goal of a state championship this year, but the good news for Cahill and the Warriors is that the best is likely still to come for this talented group that won the Division 3 North Sectional Tournament and advanced all the way to the state semi-finals before finally being eliminated by Case.

One of the biggest reasons for the optimism surrounding the future of the Matignon program, as well as one of the biggest reasons for their success this season was the play of Cahill, who despite being just a junior was voted by her teammates as one of the Warriors captains and went on to have an outstanding regular season in helping lead her team to a 12-8 record in the ultra competitive Catholic Central League.

But Cahill saved her best performances of the year for the post season where she came up with several big hits for the Warriors in helping to lead them to the sectional crown that was capped off with a 3-1 over St.

Mary's in the sectional final.

Although the Warriors entered the post season as just the number 16 seed in Division 3 North, with an impressive, but not overly dominant record of 12-8, Cahill and her teammates were confident in their chances to make some noise in the tournament, primarily because of the competition they had faced throughout the year in the Catholic Central League where they regularly faced quality opponents like St. Mary's and Bishop Fenwick.

"I definitely felt like we could do well," Cahill said. "We had to fight for everything in the CCL and it was very tough, but it helped us so much. And we made it further than any team in our league so we were very happy about that."

Cahill was one of the primary reasons the Warriors were able to win the title, starting off her impressive post season with a pair of big hits in the Warriors 6-2 first round win over number one seed Shawsheen Tech after also having two hits in the Warriors preliminary round win over East Boston.

"That was a huge win for us," Cahill said. "Being able to beat the number one seed gave us so much confidence. We really came together in the first two games of the tournament and that carried us through the rest of the way."

In the sectional title game against St. Mary's the Warriors were clinging to slim 2-1 lead in the top of the sixth inning with the dangerous Spartans still having two at bats to tie the game. But Cahill made their job a lot more difficult with a huge RBI double to make the score 3-1 and give her team some breathing room.

"I had never really been in that situation before, but being a captain and it being a big game I felt like I had to step up for the team," Cahill said. "But it was really the whole team that stepped up. One of my teammates had gotten a hit and another teammate had bunted her over to second before I got up or else my hit wouldn't have mattered."

Matignon coach Jessica DePolito was not surprised to see Cahill come up big for her team, based on her at bats earlier in the game.

"She had made very good contact her first couple of at bats, but she had just hit them right at people," said DePolito, who was recently named Division 3 Coach of the Year. "I knew she was due for a big hit and she came up with it."

As impressive as Cahill was at the plate, she was equally impressive all season behind the plate where she showed maturity beyond her years in handling a talented Matignon pitching staff, particularly All-CCL senior Lauren Doneski.

"The pitchers get a lot of credit, which they definitely deserve, but I don't think the catchers get enough credit," DePolito said. "Ryen was outstanding for us behind the plate. She called every pitch and she knows what to throw to every batter. We worked with her on it at the beginning of the year, but then she just took it and ran with it."

"She is great back there. If we need a timeout she knows when to call it. She just controls the tempo of the game out there and keeps everything under control."

Her teammates noticed that ability to lead and voted for Cahill as one of the team's captains this season despite her being just a junior.

"Ryen started for us last year as just as sophomore and the girls saw what she could do," DePolito said. "She is just a natural leader and she has been right from the start for us."

It is an honor that Cahill truly appreciates, but she is also able to put it in perspective.

"It's a really great honor, but when we are out on the field we are all equal," Cahill said. "We all just go out there and try our best, and that is why we got so far this year."

But even though Cahill and her teammates made it very far this season, she feels like they will be ready to take another step forward next season.

"I am already excited to get started," Cahill said. "We have been building every year. Last year we lost in the second round, this year we won the sectional title, and next year we will be going for the state title. We are going to come out next year stronger than ever."

Difficult week of play on the diamond for Wilmington Northeast Baseball team

It was a tough week for Wilmington's entry into the Northeast Summer Baseball league. Last Tuesday night the Wildcats traveled to Lynnfield, facing a veteran team with eight players who will be returning to their varsity team next season and suffered a tough 13-4 loss.

Wilmington's night got off to a bad start when starting pitcher John Keough suffered a shoulder injury just four pitches into the game, forcing freshman James Hill into the game against a tough Lynnfield lineup.

Lynnfield scored in each of the first four innings, even though Wilmington flashed some serious glove work. Keough went far into foul territory to snag a pop up for an early out, while Mike Curtis made a backhanded stab at third base bringing back visions of Brooks Robinson in his prime. Jim Stein relieved Hill in the top of the fourth inning and kept the Lynnfield batters off balance through the final innings.

The Wildcats kept the score close in the early going, as an RBI single by John Keough scored Jim Stein. Later in the game Kevin Burke's ground out to the right side allowed Jeff Favuzza to score from third base. A lead-off single by Dan Stein, followed by a walk to Alexander Pizette gave Dalton Rolli the opportunity to double in a run. Wilmington's final run of the game scored on a sacrifice fly by Mike Curtis.

Despite their best efforts however, the Wildcats were unable to stay close to the powerful Lynnfield squad in the later innings.

The rough week continued for the Wildcats on Sunday when they hosted and defeated Westford sauad. Brendan McDonough took the ball for the Wildcats against the visitors who brought a 4-0 record into the contest and remained perfect with a 7-0 win over the home town team.

Westford quickly showed why they have a perfect record as they scored six runs in the first three innings, while the Wilmington bats were held silent by Westford's strong pitching. Dalton Rolli and Corey Stillings had Wilmington's only hits, the lone Wildcat run scored by Bill O'Connor on a fielder's choice RBI from Jeff Favuzza.

Along with getting on base, Rolli also took the mound for the final four innings, striking out seven, walking two and allowing just one unearned run.

On defense, James Hill made a great play at third base charging a slow hit ball and following it up with a strong accurate throw to first for the out. Corey Stillings came back off the injured list providing another solid game behind the plate.

Teens can visit any YMCA of Greater Boston branch to enroll with a valid state or student ID or with a parent present.

The free summer memberships for teens are a part of the Y's Get Summer program. We are proud to provide support for more than 7,500 young adults each year through our Get Summer program."

In addition, the Y of Greater Boston will employ teens this summer, participating in the City of Boston's Youth Fund and supporting the Boston Private Industry Council's Summer Jobs Program. These teens will receive job readiness training and also participate in the Y's Safe Dating Program, a Y signature program designed to teach teens the warning signs of dating abuse and provide strategies on prevention and intervention.

State Board approves college loan relief

Commonwealth Covenant Fund provides $190,000 in tuition offset grant

BOSTON - Treasurer Steven Grossman announced that the Commonwealth Covenant Fund's (CCF) Board of Directors has approved 38 grants of $5000 a piece to help students who attended Massachusetts public colleges and universities pay down their college loans. In accordance with the rules governing the Fund, all of these former students are now pursuing careers in the science, technology, education, or math - or STEM - fields.

"The Commonwealth Covenant Fund helps ensure that top-notch talent that is educated in Massachusetts stays in Massachusetts," said Grossman. "This is critical to our continued leadership in the innovation economy, and it demonstrates that the Commonwealth is serious about investing in our economic future."

The CCF was established in 2007 to make college loan repayment grants targeted at individuals in the STEM fields. To be considered for a grant, an individual must have graduated from a Massachusetts public institution of higher education, have graduated after December 1, 2007, and have worked in a STEM profession in Massachusetts for at least one year. A cumulative grade point average of at least 3.0 is also required of applicants.

The CCF Board, which was recently reconstituted by Treasurer Grossman, includes community-oriented individuals, many with a background in education. At its most recent meeting last week, the Board discussed its mission and goals for the future, as well as the potential of raising private funds to supplement the public appropriation that it presently uses to make these grants.

Tewksbury's Amanda Kleschinsky was a CCF grant recipient.

Local youth takes track honor

For the fourth straight year, Wilmington resident Frankie Irizarry participated in the USA Track and Field New England Championships but for the first time, he managed to win a gold medal in the competition.

Irizarry won the 80 Meter Hurdles, running a personal best of 15.81 seconds. This was one of the closest races of the day with Irizarry winning by .04 seconds. He finished second in the hurdles last season at the New England meet but was determined to win first place this year. Irizarry followed up his gold medal performance in the hurdles by winning a bronze in the long jump.

The long jump included 22 athletes from Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Rhode Island and Vermont. This is Irizarry's first year competing in the long jump. The meet was held this past weekend at Fitchburg State University.

In the race, Irizarry came out of the blocks strong and was in second place after the first hurdle. Over the course of the race, Irizarry and teammate Nathan Halberstadt distanced themselves from the field.

Halberstadt held a slight lead after the last hurdle but Irizarry had a quicker sprint to the finish line, crossing the tape .04 seconds ahead of Halberstadt. Irizarry's previous best in the event was 17.2 seconds which he beat by almost a second and a half in this race. This is Irizarry's first season competing with the Waltham Track Club, lead by long time Newton North track coach, Joe Tranchita.

In the long jump, a crowded field of 22 athletes hit the runway late in the afternoon under less than optimal weather conditions. Swirling winds and impending storm late in the day made for unpredictable jumping conditions. After taking a safe jump to get a mark, Irizarry soared 12'6" on his second jump to vault himself to third place in the competition. This was almost a foot blow Irizarry's best jump on the season but it was good enough to keep him in medal contention. On his third jump, it appeared that Irizarry had the best jump of the competition soaring out well over 14 feet but the official ruled Irizarry fouled on the jump. Irizarry was content with a third place finish in his first major meet competing in the long jump.

Next up for Irizarry will be a trip to New York for the Region I qualifying meet to be held at the Mitchell Field Athletic Complex in Uniondale, Long Island on July 8. Region I consists of the above mentioned New England states plus Maine, Connecticut and New York State. It is one of 16 regions that divide up the USATF.

Dating back to the 1960's, the USATF Junior Olympic program has been the most visible youth athlete developmental program in the world. Nearly 70,000 youth athletes compete each year in the Junior Olympic Track & Field and Cross Country programs. Many of America's Olympic hopefuls competing for a spot on the London 2012 team began as youth athletes, including stars such as Jeremy Wariner, Allyson Felix, Bryan Clay, and Sanya Richards-Ross.

The 2012 USATF Junior Olympics will be held from July 26 through July 31 in Baltimore, Maryland on the campus of Morgan State University. This will be the second time that the Junior Olympics have been held in Charm City.

Irizarry has been competing in Track and Field for the past four seasons. After three seasons with the Amherst Track Club in Amherst, New Hampshire, Irizarry switched to youth track powerhouse, the Waltham Track Club. Irizarry looks forward to going to Wilmington Middle School next year and getting to compete for the Wilmington Middle School track and field team.

Tall Ships sail to Boston this weekend

GLORIA - COLOMBIA (LEFT) Standing over 257 feet long, she is the official flagship and sail-training ship of the Colombian Navy and is home-ported in Cartagena and will be located at Fish Pier. The Cisne Branco from Brazil is a 249-foot long full-rigged tall ship of Brazil, is home-ported in Rio de Janeiro. Built in 1998, she is one of the newest ships participating and will also be located at Fish Pier.

Guide to
OpSail
BOSTON 2012

By PAUL FEELY

BOSTON - The region is ready for a six-day summer tall ship festival, which kicks off this weekend in Boston Harbor.

Operation Sail, Inc., (OpSail) the national non-profit organization that produces tall ship events commemorating patriotic American milestones, sail into Boston Harbor from this Saturday, June 30 through July 5, 2012 to celebrate the 200th anniversary of the War of 1812 and writing of 'The Star-Spangled Banner'.

"Partnering with the U.S. Navy in this magnificent international waterfront spectacle in Boston will showcase the character-building aspects of sail training and why it is so important to preserve our maritime heritage," said Jose Fuentes, Chairman of Operation Sail, Inc.

The berthing locations for OpSail Boston 2012 will be at Fish Pier - located in the Seaport District of South Boston - and the Charlestown Navy Yard. Activities will take place all along Boston's Harborwalk between those two primary locations.

The USS Constitution will be on full display in the Charlestown Navy Yard in addition to some of the largest tall ships in the world being brought in by OpSail Boston 2012.

Scheduled tall ships to appear include the Cisne Branco (Brazil), Gloria (Colombia), Guayas (Ecuador) and Dewarucci (Indonesia) all docked along Fish Pier. The USCGC Eagle and Friendship of Salem will also be part of the celebration and will join the USS Constitution in the Charlestown Navy Yard.

Eight additional privately owned tall ships will join the fleet as well.

"For more than 50 years, OpSail has been bringing the official military tall ships of the world to American port cities," said Chris O'Brien, Executive Director of Operation Sail, Inc. "With OpSail 2012, it is fitting that we bring them to Boston, a harbor rich in maritime history centered around the USS Constitution, the last legacy of the age of sail when Tall Ships fought for our freedoms. This July 4th will be a day to remember in Boston as the Tall Ships bring our maritime history to life!"

Festivities begin on Saturday, from 8 a.m. to noon as the ships arrive in Boston Harbor and head to their assigned berths along the waterfront. Tall ship tours are

"BRAVE" A FUN TALE

"BRAVE" IS PIXAR STUDIO'S fun tale of a brave young princess, Merida, in ancient Scotland who is determined to carve her own path in life. The movie takes us from laughter to tears, and lots of good stuff in between.

"BRAVE"
GRADE: ***

After last year's Cars 2, considered a disappointment by many audiences and critics alike, Pixar Animation Studios rebounds with a fun tale of a brave young lass in ancient Scotland.

Following in the classic hand-drawn animation tradition of Pixar's corporate partner, Disney, Brave is a princess movie. Merida is a skilled archer and impetuous daughter of King Fergus (Billy Connolly) and Queen Elinor (Emma Thompson). Determined to carve her own path in life, Merida defies an age-old custom sacred to the uproarious lords of the land: massive Lord MacGuffin (Kevin McKidd), surly Lord Macintosh (Craig Ferguson) and cantankerous Lord Dingwall (Robbie Coltrane). Merida's actions inadvertently unleash chaos and fury in the kingdom, and when she turns to an eccentric old Witch (Julie Walters) for help, she is granted an ill-fated wish. The ensuing peril forces Merida to discover the meaning of true bravery in order to undo a beastly curse before it's too late. Merida's instinctive dislike for the demands upon a young lady of her status reaches crisis stage when the time comes for her to choose a husband from the sons of the clan lords. It's a tradition that has kept peace in the Highlands for centuries.

Upon the presentation of the sons of the lords at the castle, the princess recoils at the sight of her clownish young suitors. The ceremonial presentation of the suitors and an archery challenge for Merida's hand turn disastrously wrong for the princess and everyone else. The movie's tone shifts from bright to dark as the reluctant bride-to-be jumps on her horse and rides away.

Her disappearance plunges the land into more chaos and the threat of war.

Like animated Disney classics Snow White, Cinderella and Pinocchio, Brave is many things in one movie. Pixar's filmmakers flex show off their versatility when it comes to animation and storytelling, moving from lighthearted slapstick to high adventure to tragic moments.

The film takes its audience from laughter to tears.

There's also a lot of good stuff between the two. A worthy addition to the Pixar gallery, Brave puts the studio back on top.

"ROCK OF AGES"
GRADE: **

You don't have to be a fan or even like the music of the 1980s to appreciate the effort that went into making "Rock of Ages."

What should impress you is the commitment and dedication of a cast of veteran actors giving their all to their roles, and performing their own songs - even if the film itself isn't that great overall.

The movie, adapted from the Broadway musical of the same name, stars Julianne Hough as Sherrie and Diego Boneta as Drew.

Sherrie is a Midwestern girl who hops on a bus to make her way to Hollywood seeking fame and fortune as a singer. Within minutes of arriving, she's mugged and then rescued by well-meaning Drew, who's currently a bartender at the Bourbon Room, a famed nightclub and music venue, but really wants to be a musician, too.

The Bourbon's flailing under a wave of financial distress, and its owner, Dennis (Alec Baldwin), and his sidekick (Russell Brand) are at their wits' end. There's also the mayor's ultra-conservative wife (Catherine Zeta-Jones), who's aiming to shut the club down.

Enter Stacey Jaxx (Tom Cruise), star of mega-band Arsenal, who's launching a solo career. His manager (Paul Giamatti) has promised to hold Stacey's first show at the Bourbon. Can Sherrie resist the pull of Stacey, her rock god? Will she and Drew survive as a duo, in love and in music?

The first 15 minutes of the film are terrible, and you'll wonder whether you're in for a cheese-fest that will have you feeling sorry for all of the big names who are aboard this vessel.

The movie is campy, and the translation from Broadway to the screen can be awkward. But the music ("Pour Some Sugar on Me," "I Can't Fight This Feeling") is enjoyably sing-alongable (if that's a word). And most of the performances are winning. So before you know it, you're (sort of) won over.

The best part of the film is Cruise. As Jaxx, a mysterious rock star oozing with sex appeal he's seriously appealing. Cruise, no surprise, commits entirely to the enterprise, and comes off looking like he should have been onstage singing in the 80's instead of dancing across movie screens in his underwear.

Cruise walks off with the film. He understands what is required of him as Jaxx, playing it as an amalgamation of many of the era's biggest rock icons.

The storyline has been altered from the Broadway production to a more straightforward boy-meets-girl, boy-loses-girl, boy-and-girl reunite story, set against the backdrop of Los Angeles' Sunset Strip and its infamous Bourbon Club.

Don't take Rock of Ages too seriously, and you'll have fun.

"PROMETHEUS"
GRADE: ***

In 1979, Sir Ridley Scott burst on to the Hollywood scene with a little movie called "Alien", shocking audiences with exploding chests and tense, scary scenes.

Scott left the science fiction genre behind after making 'Blade Runner', and went on to film epics like "Gladiator" and "Black Hawk Down." Now Scott has returned to sci-fi with the new film, "Prometheus," and his return was worth the wait.

"Prometheus" is a great piece of sci-fi filmmaking that uses the genre to raise some deep questions about the nature of humanity and religion (was Jesus an alien?), all while being tense, gruesome and visually stunning.

And even though Scott has made his film deep and epic in nature, he shows he can still pull off uncomfortable, white-knuckle filmmaking like a scene featuring an impromptu C-section that stays with you long after you leave the theater.

SPEAKING OF WALKING (BELOW)

Let your fingers skip right to this website: www.walkscore.com. Type in a location, put your walking shoes on, and get yourselves - okay, drive if you must - to the nearest walkable community.

You might be there already.

The local 'somewhat walkable' communities, in order of 'walkability,' according to the website, are Tewksbury (68), North Reading (60), Woburn (57), Stoneham (55), and Wakefield (54).

The 'car-dependent' communities, with the highest walking scores are Reading (48), Winchester (47), Lynnfield (42), Burlington (41), and Wilmington (32).

Reality check: No mention is made of the quality of the walks.

Reality check, again: According to its Walk Score, Boston is the 3rd most walkable city in the U.S. with a Walk Score of 79. In Boston, 82% of residents have a Walk Score of 70 or above. Back Bay-Beacon Hill is a 'Walker's Paradise' with a score of 97.

walkable communities expert Mark Fenton at the Americal Civic Center in Wakefield," note the Reading-Wakefield editions of the "Daily Times Chronicle."

"Representatives from the Town of Reading included: Peter Hechenbleikner, Town Manager; Jeff Zager, Director of Public Works; Jean Delios, Town Planner; Jessie Wilson, Staff Planner; several representatives from 'Walkable Reading,' and Ruth Clay, (regional) Health Director.

"...Building More Active Communities: what you can do as a policymaker' ... challenged the crowd to 'Change our thinking. It's not just an obesity epidemic—it's an epidemic of physical inactivity and poor nutrition: two of the three biggest drivers of skyrocketing health costs with tobacco being the other..."

"Telling people to change behavior doesn't work. We know what does: stickier communities. There are huge co-benefits of healthy design. Though gyms and other 'extra' activities are necessary and important, they are not enough."

Fenton "asked planners, Aldermen, and many others to '...build communities where people are intrinsically more active.' According to Fenton, the following seem to matter: 1) Variety of uses within walk, bike, and transit distance. 2) Connecting facilities: sidewalks, trails, bike lanes. 3) Destinations are functional and inviting for pedestrians, bicyclists, and transit users. 4) Safe and accessible for all ages, incomes, abilities..."

"...This event was sponsored by Mass in Motion - an initiative of the Massachusetts Department of Public Health, Melrose Chamber of Commerce, Wakefield Chamber of Commerce and City of Melrose/Town of Wakefield Health Department.

"The Town of Reading was recently awarded a Mass in Motion federal grant money from the Centers for Disease Control (CDC) to conduct a healthy eating and active living needs assessment.

"The grant comes through the Mass Department of Public Health and ends in September 2012."

ON THE OTHER HAND (WINCHESTER)

"After unveiling the downtown parking plan to residents ..., the Board of Selectmen received mostly positive feedback. Other than a few minor concerns, those in attendance thanked the board and Planning Board chairman Lance Grenzeback for working tirelessly to fix the parking problem in the town center.

"The problem has never been a lack of parking. As Grenzeback noted, the problem has always been managing the parking. This plan proposes to do that by moving long term parking away from the center, thereby opening up the downtown for 15-30 minute parking to increase turnover.

"The plan creates colored zones for residents, employees, school faculty, customers, and commuters..."

"Grenzeback said the town has 2,283 public parking spaces and 1,382 private ones. Unfortunately, certain spaces are used by the wrong people. He said many town employees park in spaces designed for high turnover, meaning those employees are constantly moving their vehicles so as to avoid a ticket.

"With short-term parking spaces taken up by employees, it forces customers to drive around and search for parking. Many just give up and take their business elsewhere. Grenzeback noted the town loses approximately two-thirds of its business to Burlington, Lexington and Woburn. This parking plan, he felt, should help the town recapture some of that money..."

"Grenzeback told the board that the goal is to have free parking in the center. He admitted that the plan wouldn't make everyone happy, so he joked, 'If we can't make everyone happy, can we at least make everyone evenly unhappy?'"

"The board heard from many residents who almost unanimously responded to the plan with positive comments..."

•Need some help with the trivia question? Less than 10.

•University of New Hampshire student-athletes Megan Bozek (Cortlandt Manor, N.Y.), Kellie Joyce (South Pomfret, Vt.), Casey Pohlmeier (Millersville, Md.), CARLIE TARBELL (WAKEFIELD, MASS.) and Melyssa Woods (Glens Falls N.Y.) were all selected to a regional High Performance Team and will compete at the Women's National Championships, held at the University of Maryland.

USA Field Hockey's High

Performance Training Centers identify and train potential National Team athletes through comprehensive training and skill enhancement sessions as well as premier level competitions. They allow athletes to train in regional areas close to home with some of the country's top coaches. Trials are open to enrolled collegiate athletes and post-collegiate athletes identified by USA Field Hockey.

Bozek and Tarbell will compete for the North High Performance Tournament Team - which encompasses Massachusetts, Connecticut and New York - while Joyce, Pohlmeier and Woods were named to the Boston WNC Team.

Bozek started all 22 games as a sophomore back for UNH in 2011 and tallied five goals and one assist for 11 points as an integral part of the offensive penalty corner unit. She led the Wildcats in defensive saves with three and was also a prominent part of the Wildcats' defensive penalty corner unit. Her 2011 accolades included Longstreth/NFHCA Northeast Region Second Team, America East All-Conference Second Team and America East All-Academic Team. Bozek was named the recipient of the UNH field hockey program's Joyce V. Hiller Scholarship.

Tarbell played in six games with a 1-0 record during her freshman year for the 'Cats. She stopped 11 of 12 shots for a 0.39 GAA and .917 save percentage; in her only career start, Tarbell made five saves in a 2-1 victory at the University of Vermont. Tarbell was the recipient of The Freshman Award at UNH's annual team banquet.

Joyce also started all 22 games as a freshman midfielder for the Wildcats in the '11 season. She recorded two goals and three assists for seven points, and that included an assist in the NCAA tournament game vs. Michigan as well as a goal in the final weekend of the regular season at nationally-ranked University at Albany (Oct. 29). Joyce was a unanimous selection to the America East All-Rookie Team.

Pohlmeier, a sophomore midfielder a year ago, started all 22 games and recorded 13 points on five goals and three assists while playing an integral role on the offensive penalty corner unit. With those numbers, she tied for fourth on the squad in goals and ranked fifth in points. She was also a vital part of the defensive penalty corner in addition to her role in transitioning the Wildcats from defense to offense. Pohlmeier was presented the Susan Kilmister Memorial Award by the UNH field hockey program.

Woods started all 22 games as a junior midfielder. She recorded two goals and one assist for a total of five points. The two goals and five points matched her single-season highs established as a freshman in 2009. She was another key cog on the defensive penalty corner unit for the 'Cats and also was part of the offensive penalty corner. Woods was bestowed the Donna Lynne '74 Scholarship by the Wildcats' field hockey program.

4:00 p.m. - 8:00 p.m. Free public tours of tall ships (Fish Pier)

Planned activities include parades of sail, public tours of the vessels, and air shows, according to organizers. The ceremonies will also commemorate the writing of "The Star Spangled Banner," which Francis Scott Key wrote in

USCG BARQUE EAGLE - USA - A 290-foot long globetrotting ambassador and sail training ship of the U.S. Coast Guard Academy. Eagle always leads the Parade of Sail and will be located at the Charlestown Navy Yard

Sail Boston will entertain younger audience members with educational programs focusing on US and international maritime history. Cadets and crewmembers will be available to educate children of all ages of their personal experiences at sea, home countries and more.

Chief Petty Officer Frank Neely, a spokesman for the USS Constitution, said OpSail will provide residents and tourists with the opportunity to learn about the history and workings of sailing vessels.

Operation Sail, often referred to as "OpSail," was the brainchild of late maritime historian Frank Braynard and IBMer Nils Hansell, who shared a vision of creating global goodwill in an era of uncertainty by bringing together the world's remaining windships in a parade of sails in New York Harbor. Their efforts eventually gained the attention of President John F. Kennedy, a seaman who offered his endorsement of the idea in May of 1963. "I am looking forward eagerly to Operation Sail," Kennedy wrote. "The sight of so many ships gathered from the distant corners of the world should remind us that strong, disciplined, and venturesome men still can find their way safely across uncertain and stormy seas."

Parking in the Charlestown Navy Yard

Limited metered parking is available along First Avenue. To get to the Partners

HealthCare managed parking garage from in front of the Shouse Building, follow the posted blue "Parking" street signs and continue along First Avenue to 13th Street, then turn left. Go two short blocks and turn right onto 5th Avenue to the parking garage entrance.

Meet Devin

HI! My name is Devin. "I love to ride the T, and I am good with computers!"

Devin is a quiet thirteen year old Caucasian boy. Devin loves everything about trains, and thinks that he wants to be a train engineer or bus driver when he grows up. Devin also enjoys creating original works of art on the computer. In his residential program, he generally gets along well with his peers and with staff. Devin has really benefited from the structure and nurturance of his this program, and it has helped him build his self esteem. In school, Devin wants to learn and is eager to please his teachers. He is supported by an Individualized Education Plan, and has been diagnosed with a learning disability. The ideal family for Devin is a two parent home who is loving and kind, yet also stable and firm. He will need a family who understand how difficult change can be and be patient with him as he transitions into a home. His future family should be prepared to advocate for him in the school system. Devin would like to continue visits with his birth brother several times per year.

If Devin could have his own special wish, he would wish to grow up in a happy home.

Adoption Party, Saturday July 28, 9:00 AM - 3:00 PM, Assumption College, Worcester, MA. Workshops are on topics including the matching process, "legal risk," maintaining sibling connections, and more! Activities will be provided during workshops for any children you may bring with you. Lunch will be provided for all attendees, followed by an afternoon of carnival activities with waiting children and their social workers.

To learn more about Devin, or to RSVP to the adoption party, call the Massachusetts Adoption Resource Exchange (MARE) at 617-54-ADOPT (617-542-3678) or visit www.MAREinc.org. The sooner you call, the sooner a waiting child will have "a permanent place to call HOME."

New recommendations on dental X-rays could be on the horizon

A visit to the dentist often involves a check-up and a routine cleaning. Many dentists prefer to do annual X-rays as part of preventative care - helping to diagnose oral problems that cannot be seen by the naked eye. However, new developments may change the frequency of dental X-rays.

The American Dental Association has reviewed recent studies that link yearly or more frequent dental X-rays to an increased risk of developing meningioma, the most commonly diagnosed brain tumor. The ADA's long-standing position on X-rays is that dentists should order dental X-rays for patients only when necessary for diagnosis and treatment. In addition, steps must be taken to safeguard patients against radiation while the X-rays are being taken.

Care and diligent records keep patients safe

Since 1989, the ADA has published recommendations to help dentists ensure that patients' exposure to radiation is as low as possible. The association encourages the use of abdominal shielding (e.g., protective aprons) and thyroid collars on all patients. In addition, the ADA recommends that dentists use E or F speed film, the two fastest film speeds available, or a digital X-ray.

In some cases, dentists ask patients when their most recent dental X-rays were taken, especially if the patient is new to the practice. This happens frequently thanks to changes in dental coverage that force employees to choose a different dentist who accepts the new insurance.

But relying on a patient to recall their most recent X-rays is flawed. Studies have shown that the ability to recall information is often imperfect, and, as a result, patients may get more frequent X-rays than is necessary. Therefore, carefully document when and where dental X-rays were given.

X-ray studies accuracy raise concerns, questions

While studies linking X-rays to brain tumors may have some basis in truth, the ADA has said that studies that look at the prevalence of X-rays and rates of cancer can be flawed if patient information is included based on the individuals' own recall of when X-rays took place. The type of X-ray the patient received also needs to be given consideration. X-rays taken decades ago relied on heavy concentrations of radiation. While research into the medical ramifications of frequent X-rays seems promising, the ADA encourages further research about the possible link between X-ray exposure and patient safety.

X-rays do serve a purpose

Although X-rays put the body in the path of radiation, the data collected from X-rays is important. Dental X-rays are valuable in helping dentists detect and treat oral health problems at an early stage. Many oral diseases can't be detected on the basis of a visual and physical examination alone, and dental X-rays can fill in the blanks about certain conditions, such as early-stage cavities, gum disease, infections or some types of tumors.

Heat exhaustion and heat stroke pose significant threat

Summer is a season best spent outdoors, and many people anxiously await their opportunity to soak up some sun in the warm, summer air. But the summer heat can be relentless, posing a potentially significant threat to those who aren't careful when the dog days of summer arrive.

Heat exhaustion and heat stroke are two of the biggest concerns for those spending time under the summer sun. Differentiating between the two and understanding the causes and symptoms of each can help revelers survive the summer heat.

What is heat exhaustion?

Those who work or exercise in humid or hot conditions might have experienced some level of heat exhaustion. When a person is suffering from heat exhaustion, their body is losing its fluids through sweat, and that loss causes dehydration. The body will also overheat, with its temperature rising as high as 104 F.

What is heat stroke?

Heat stroke can be life-threatening. When a person is experiencing heat stroke, his or her body's cooling system stops working, and the body's temperature can rise to 105 F or higher. The cooling system is controlled by the brain, so heat stroke can even damage the brain and/or additional internal organs.

What causes heat exhaustion?

Many people who suffer from heat exhaustion are not used to exercising or working in hot or humid environments, an unfamiliarity that makes them susceptible to heat exhaustion. Gardeners, for example, might be able to work in the garden in late spring and feel no ill effects. However, once summer arrives with its humidity and higher temperatures, those same gardeners are not accustomed to such conditions and might develop heat exhaustion as a result. Especially humid days make it difficult for the body to properly evaporate sweat, and the body will lose fluids and electrolytes. As this is happening, people who do not adequately replace those lost fluids are more likely to suffer from heat exhaustion.

What causes heat stroke?

Unlike heat exhaustion, which is largely caused by external conditions, heat stroke can result from an existing medical condition or medications. People with certain conditions or on medications that hinder the body's ability to sweat may be predisposed to heat stroke because their cooling mechanisms are already impaired or compromised. But heat stroke can also be caused by anyone exerting themselves in a hot environment, even if those people do not have a preexisting medical condition.

What are the symptoms of heat exhaustion?

Heat exhaustion symptoms vary but can include:

- * sweating profusely
- * feelings of dizziness
- * muscle cramps or pains
- * fainting
- * dark-colored urine (dehydration)
- * nausea
- * pale skin
- * rapid heartbeat
- * headache

What are the symptoms of heat stroke?

A body temperature of 105 F or above is a telltale indicator of heat stroke, but additional symptoms may include:

- * throbbing headache
- * flushed, hot and dry skin
- * slightly elevated blood pressure
- * dizziness and light-headedness
- * nausea and vomiting
- * rapid, shallow breathing

* lack of sweating despite the heat

* rapid heartbeat that is strong or weak

* unconsciousness

What do I do if I suspect I am suffering from heat exhaustion?

If heat exhaustion is suspected, get out of the heat immediately, ideally into an air-conditioned room but under a tree in the shade if that's the only option. Call a doctor if you cannot keep fluids down or if you seem incoherent.

Those who can keep fluids down should drink plenty of noncaffeinated and nonalcoholic beverages, and remove any tight or unnecessary clothing. In addition, take a cool shower or bath, but ideally only do so if someone is around to monitor you.

What should I do if I suspect I am suffering from heat stroke?

Heat stroke is potentially life-threatening, so immediately dial 911 if you feel you have heat stroke. If you suspect someone else has heat stroke, administer some first aid while waiting for an ambulance to arrive. Move the person to an air-conditioned room, and try to get his or her body temperature down to a more manageable 101 F or 102 F. Wet the person's skin and apply ice packs to the armpits, groin, neck, and back, as these areas have an abundance of blood vessels close to the skin, and cooling them can help lower body temperature.

with folks in the dining room, keep your eye on the patio, and enjoy watching seasonal changes in the landscape beyond.

Natural light from a skylight illuminates a front bathroom that is equally convenient to the family living area and the secondary bedrooms. It's right next to the Harlequin's pass-through utility room, which links the house and garage. Storage closets line the hallway that runs the bedrooms and passes the utility room before reaching the living room.

The owners' suite has its own private bathroom. Amenities include a dual vanity, an oversized shower, and a walk-in closet. The toilet and shower can be closed off for steam containment and privacy.

Home prices rise in nearly all major US cities

WASHINGTON (AP) — Home prices rose in nearly all major U.S. cities in April from March, further evidence of a housing market that is slowly improving even while the job market slumps.

The Standard & Poor's/Case-Shiller home price index released Tuesday showed increases in 19 of the 20 cities tracked. That's the second straight month that prices have risen in a majority of U.S. cities.

And a measure of national prices rose 1.3 percent in April from March, the first increase in seven months.

San Francisco, Washington and Phoenix posted the biggest increases in April. Prices fell 3.6 percent in Detroit, the only city to record a drop.

The month-to-month prices aren't adjusted for seasonal factors. Still, prices in half of the cities are up over the past 12 months.

Prices are increasing as the housing market has slowly started to recover. Sales of new and previously occupied homes are up over the past year, in part because mortgage rates have plunged to the lowest levels on record. Builders are more confident and are starting to build more homes.

Consistent prices increases benefit the broader economy. Homeowners feel wealthier, encouraging them to spend more. Rising prices also encourage more Americans to buy homes because they are more confident that their investment will appreciate over time.

"If you are no longer quite so afraid that prices are going to fall, you are more likely to buy," said Pierre Ellis, a senior economist at Decision Economics.

Major homebuilder stock prices ended the day up sharply. PulteGroup and Toll Brothers jumped more than 5 percent. Lennar and D.R. Horton increased more than 3 percent on the day.

The S&P/Case-Shiller monthly index covers roughly half of U.S. homes. It measures prices compared with those in January 2000 and creates a three-month moving average. The April figures are the latest available.

Even with the gains, the index is 34 percent below its peak reached in the summer of 2006, at the height of the housing boom. Based on the 20-city index, home prices are now at about the same level as in early 2003.

And prices continue to fall in some hard-hit areas. Prices in Atlanta have plunged 17 percent over the past 12 months, the biggest year-over-year drop.

The largest gain was in Phoenix, where prices rose 8.6 percent in that stretch.

The weaker markets continue to weigh on national prices. A measure of prices for all 20 cities fell 1.9 percent over the 12 months that ended in April.

Still, other measures show home prices have risen nationally during that period. CoreLogic, a private firm, calculates that prices rose 1.1 percent nationally in those 12 months. The Federal Housing Finance Agency, which oversees mortgage giants Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac, says prices have increased 3 percent in that time.

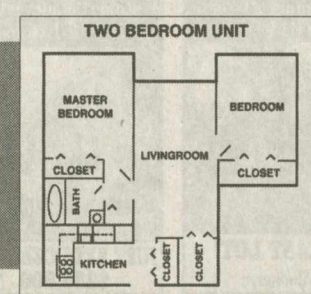

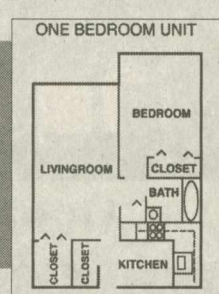

Recent data indicate that the housing market has started to recover more than five years after the bubble burst.

This Week's Sampler: Harlequin

Harlequin boasts spacious family area

Craftsman detailing adds its charm to the Harlequin, a compact single-level home with a surprisingly spacious gathering space. Craftsman features include the characteristic gridded window uppers and the front-facing gables with decorative corbels at their apexes.

The plan's 42-foot width allows the home to fit neatly onto a city lot, but the footprint is larger than it appears, stretching quite a ways back from the street.

Family living areas fill the entire left side, while bedrooms and bathrooms are on the right. Entering, you step into a living room that's windowed on the front and sides. This space flows into the dining room, which is open to the kitchen on the right. Wide sliding glass doors at the rear access a partially covered patio that could easily be screened, if desired.

A flush eating bar rims the peninsular counter that separates the dining room and kitchen. Counters, cabinetry and built-in appliances wrap around the other three sides of the kitchen. Standing at the kitchen sink, you can converse
